Re: Microsoft Corp. v. Motorola, Inc., et al., No. 10-cv-1823-JLR

Dear Judge Robart:

In compliance with the Court's July 25 Order, Microsoft provided three witnesses to testify regarding the following three topics identified by the Court (6/25/13 Tr. at 9):

- 1. A Microsoft 30(b)(6) designee (Jeff Davidson) who could "categorically say, as the witness has implied, that there was no consideration of moving the distribution center prior to mid-January of 2012;"
- 2. A Microsoft 30(b)(6) designee (David Killough) who "can discuss other patent litigation lawsuits pending in Germany in the 2011, 2012 range" against Microsoft; and
- 3. "A second two-hour deposition of Ms. McKinley or someone else in the law department who will explain the reasons why the law department made the decision that the distribution center needed to be moved."

Davidson testified that he spoke to the two other executives who had the authority to make a decision to relocate the distribution facility – Brian Tobey and Owen Roberts. He testified that he had been in his role for eight years and that, apart from routine reviews of efficacy of distribution centers described in his first deposition (not leading to considering relocation), never during that time had he, Tobey or Roberts considered relocating the German facility. Davidson testified he had not asked LCA if it had considered moving the distribution center and that LCA had no authority to make such a decision. Ex. 1 at 14-15. Any "consideration" would be meaningless. McKinley in fact testified that only upon learning of the German injunction threat did LCA realize that the European (and Middle East) distribution Center was in Germany. Ex. 2 at 43-44.

Killough provided a chart listing the German patent suits pending in 2011 and 2012.

McKinley did not need to review documents to remember that LCA, which was powerless to make the relocation decision, had not made it. She unequivoally said: "LCA didn't make the decision." Ex. 2 at 40 (emphasis supplied). Motorola's real complaint is that McKinley did not recall details about the legal advice LCA had given in connection with the relocation and had not used emails containing that advice to refresh her recollection. None of those documents contain statements indicating that LCA made the decision. If in fact LCA did not make the decision, then the predicate for the claim of waiver is missing. It in fact did not.

This is not surprising in a corporate organization: lawyers do not make business decisions, they provide advice; others make business decisions based on that advice.

Motorola spent two hours examining McKinley. The examination focused on the general nature of the advice LCA provided to the business. Counsel never instructed McKinley not to answer a question—because the questions merely sought to identify the role LCA played and the areas in which they provided advice. There were no questions about the substance of the legal advice—only questions designed to show that McKinley could have testified in more detail about the advice if she had reviewed privileged email to prepare for her deposition. McKinley did not review records of this advice because it was not within the scope of Topic 3, which was an event that never occurred: why LCA made the decision to relocate the facility.

Motorola misstates Topic 3 as "'what the law department did' regarding the relocation decision (Brief at 4). Microsoft understood "what the law department did" to refer to the Court's statement, "the law department made us" relocate. McKinley (and Davidson) testified this never happened.

A. Microsoft Took Appropriate Steps to Comply with The Court's Order.

Davidson was first deposed on May 9, 2012 and named McKinley as the LCA attorney in charge of the Supply Chain business. Motorola did not ask to depose McKinley. A month after discovery closed Motorola sought leave to depose McKinley and to elicit further 30(b)(6) testimony, resulting in the Court's order of June 25, 2013.

Microsoft made the witnesses available on July 11, but Motorola was not available. Killough and McKinley were deposed on July 15, Davidson on July 16. Killough's deposition was 48 minutes, Davidson's 31 and McKinley's 120.

At 7:30 pm on Wednesday, July 10, 2013, Motorola asked Microsoft to produce McKinley's custodial documents. Microsoft collected and reviewed over one thousand documents, produced documents on Sunday, July 14, and supplied a privilege log the next day.¹

B. Microsoft's Witnesses Complied with Their Obligations Under Rule 30(b)(6).

"Rule 30(b)(6) is intended to allow a party to gather information about a corporation from a person designated to serve as the voice of the corporation." Shapiro v. America's Credit Union, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 77019, *5 (W.D. Wash. May 31, 2013) (Leighton, J.). While the deponent must be prepared to testify about information known or reasonably available to the organization, "[t]he fact that the corporate designee cannot answer every question posed during the deposition does not mean that the corporation failed to satisfy its Rule 30(b)(6) obligation to prepare the witness." Id. While a corporation has the obligation to prepare its witnesses to testify regarding topics specifically identified in a 30(b)(6) notice, no such obligation exists with respect to questions that fall outside the scope of the notice. Detoy v. City and County of San Francisco, 196 F.R.D. 362, 366-67 (N.D. Cal. 2000) (noting that "if the deponent does not know the answer to questions outside the scope of the matters described in the [30(b)(6)] notice, then that is the examining party's problem."); J.C. v. Soc'y of Jesus, Oregon Province, 2006 WL 3158814, *6 (W.D. Wash. Oct. 27, 2006) (Robart, J.) ("If counsel strays from the designated topics during the deposition, the deponent is free to answer that he has no responsive knowledge.").

Davidson: Davidson was designated to testify whether Microsoft had considered relocation prior to mid-January 2012. Davidson had testified earlier that he would have known of any such consideration during the three to four years he managed the distribution operation and there had been none. Ex. 3 at 219. To assure that he could unequivocally state that his earlier testimony was correct, Davidson spoke "to the only other people that would have ever potentially considered such a situation; Owen Roberts, as well as Brian Tobey." Ex. 1 at 7. Davidson also testified that he and Roberts were the people who first raised the topic of whether to move the warehouse when they were informed that Motorola was seeking injunctive relief in Germany. Id, at 17. Whether others with no conceivable power to make such a decision had dreamed of relocation is not germane to the question posed.

McKinley: McKinley was Microsoft's designee on Topic 3 – "the reasons why the law department made the decision that the distribution center needed to be moved." McKinley testified that "LCA didn't make the decision." Ex. 2, at 40:4. McKinley did not need to refresh her recollection or confer with anyone in order to provide the one and only answer she could truthfully give: it did not happen.³

Davidson testified the next day: (1) "the legal department described the risk around injunction to me, as well as Owen. So the legal department would describe the risk. It wouldn't be the legal department that considered whether or not a move was necessary. That was Owen Roberts and myself"; (2) "It was myself and Owen that began articulating here's what we would see as some potential things we'd investigate. One of those things considered was obviously to move"; (3) "The legal department wouldn't be moving the distribution center. I would"; and (4) Moving the facility "wouldn't be her [McKinley's] decision." Ex. 1 at 14-17.

Motorola spent the remainder of its time examining McKinley about what LCA did do with reference to relocation—including the type of legal advice it had provided. Microsoft counsel did not object to her identifying the subject matter, but not the substance, of this advice. The advice is privileged, as are any documents embodying it. McKinley had no obligation prepare for her deposition on these topics. See J.C., 2006 WL 3158814 at *6.

³ While Motorola's counsel asked McKinley what type of documents she could review to refresh her recollection, he never asked whether any such review was necessary for her to answer the specific question posed by Topic 3. And McKinley's description of documents she could review included documents relating to issues such as the pros and cons of options "from a legal point of view"—i.e., legal advice. See, e.g., Ex. 2 at 58.

² Roberts was the General Manager of Global Supply Chain. Tobey was the Corporate Vice President of Manufacturing, Supply Chain, and Information Systems. Id., pp. 7-8.

McKinley supplemented Killough's testimony on other patent cases pending in Germany, testifying that any injunction in the "Sync" case (which did not involve SEPs) "would likely have not prohibited the distribution of the Xbox from the Germany facility, because there were other ways to handle that issue through the Live Messenger," including removal. Ex. 2 at 22-23.

C. Microsoft Has Not Waived Privilege over LCA's Legal Advice.

Any waiver determination implicit in the Court's order permitting McKinley's deposition would arise only if LCA in fact made the decision to relocate. Resilient Floor Covering Pension Fund v. Michael's Floor Covering, Inc., 2012 WL 3062294, at * 8 (N.D. Cal. July 26, 2012) (scope of waiver should be drawn narrowly). McKinley was examined on this subject and testified that LCA did not, but that it provided advice to those who did.

Those privileged communications do not become discoverable simply because they are relevant. Implied waiver exists only when the following elements have been established:

(1) assertion of the privilege was the result of some affirmative act, such as filing suit, by the asserting party; (2) through this affirmative act, the asserting party put the protected information at issue by making it relevant to the case; and (3) application of the privilege would have denied the opposing party access to information vital to his defense.

Hearn v. Rhay, 68 F.R.D. 574 (E.D. Wash. 1975). Even a statement of the legal conclusions is not a waiver. Seattle Nw. Secs. Corp. v. SDG Holding Co., 812 P.2d 488, 498 (Wn. App. 1991): "[t]o penalize a disclosure of a legal conclusion by characterizing it as a waiver would greatly hamper attorneys in their ability to effectively represent and advise their clients. The exception would swallow the rule and render the privilege a virtual nullity." Id.

The waiver issue is "not simply whether the protected communications are at issue," but whether Microsoft put them at issue in some way. Dana v. Piper, 295 P.3d 305, 313 (Wn. App. 2013). Microsoft's relocation damages claim is: a) Motorola's German litigation entailed a risk of an injunction; b) LCA told the business unit of this risk; c) the business unit evaluated other options but decided relocation was the only safe course. Microsoft is not relying on advice of counsel as the basis for its relocation beyond the disclosure of what was essentially a matter of public record. See Ex. 1 at 16 (referencing press about the suit). Both McKinley and Davidson confirmed that the business group made the decision to relocate, and that is what Microsoft will rely on at trial. See Lexington Ins. Co. v. Swanson, 2007 WL 21121730 (W.D. Wash. July 24, 2007) (Pechman, J.) (where party confirms it is not relying on "advice of counsel" defense, the party "has not put the withheld documents at issue by making them relevant to the case").

Roberts initially testified that he was "told based on the litigation, we had to move the facility," by McKinley (Ex. 4 at 40-41). When asked by Motorola's counsel to confirm her understanding of this testimony, Roberts testified that LCA "presented a case that said we had a very strong risk of our business being materially impacted if we lost the litigation in Germany, and then it was a decision by the business to say how do we mitigate for that risk and at what stage do we mitigate for that risk. It's not a legal decision." Id. at 134-35. The Court noted that Roberts' testimony raised a factual question regarding whether the waiver event actually occurred. 6/25/13 Tr. at 10:2-8. The McKinley testimony confirms that LCA did not make the decision. The Davidson testimony confirms that LCA had no authority to make such a decision. Even if the factual question cannot be absolutely resolved on the basis of the testimony to date, McKinley is unable to testify about "why" she made a decision that she testifies she did not make. Nor is there a privilege waiver where the predicate for the waiver—LCA's having made the decision—is not established.⁵

Motorola, not Microsoft, has worked to inject LCA's advice into the case. Testimony about legal advice extracted in a deposition does not create a waiver. Metric Constr., Inc. v. Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi, Ltd., 1998 WL 1742589, *22 (E.D.N.C. Sept. 28, 1998) ("it cannot be possible for one party to justify piercing his adversary's attorney-client privilege by virtue of its own injection of the privilege into the lawsuit. A contrary result would enable a skillful questioner to render the privilege a nullity"). McKinley testified because the Court ordered an LCA witness to do so. Any testimony she gave was in response to Motorola's examination.

Motorola also cannot meet the third Hearn factor. "Protected communications are vital to a party's case when they contain information about a disputed issue that is not available from any other nonprivileged source. But protected communications are not vital to a party's case when there are other sources of indirect evidence about the issue." Dana, at 313 (internal citations omitted) (where issue involved the "objective reasonableness" of a settlement; attorney's subjective view of reasonableness of settlement was not vital to opponent's case); *I*st Sec. Bank of Wash. v. Eriksen, 2007 WL 188881 (W.D. Wash. Jan. 22, 2007) (Lasnik, J.) (finding disclosure not vital where opponent had access briefs, experts, and other witnesses who can shed light on issue).

Motorola has now taken six depositions (including one expert deposition) regarding Microsoft's claim for mitigation costs. It has had every opportunity to develop evidence supporting its position that Microsoft's relocation costs were unreasonable. See Kubista v. Romaine, 14 Wn. App. 58, 538 P.2d 812 (1975) (setting out standard for recovering mitigation expenses). It has received testimony regarding every option considered by Microsoft and the reasons it chose to relocate to The Netherlands. Motorola was directly involved in the German action in which the injunction issue arose and is well aware of the relevant dates and the timing of the German court's rulings. It does not need to pry into Microsoft's privileged communications. Microsoft has not waived the privilege over any of LCA's privileged communications. Motorola's motion should be denied.

⁵ If the Court is inclined to find that Roberts' testimony created a broader waiver, Microsoft requests that the court hold an evidentiary hearing in which to resolve any remaining fact issues regarding who made the decision. See Seattle Nw. Secs. Corp., 812 P.2d at 498-99 (court should resolve underlying fact issues before finding waiver).

⁶ Elat v. Emandopngoubene, 2013 WL 1146205, *6-7 (D. Md. Mar. 18, 2013); Aull v. Cavalcade Pension Plan, 185 F.R.D. 618, 630 (D. Colo. 1998).

Very truly yours,

Page 7 1 Germany prior to the January of 2012; is that right? 2 That's correct. Α So first, can you tell me, what have you done to try 3 Q to educate yourself as to whether or not there was 4 5 any consideration of moving the distribution center 6 prior to January 2012? 7 Well, a couple things. A One: I've been in this role for roughly eight 8 years, so I'm pretty intimate with the space. 9 10 Two: I've spoken with the only other people that 11 would have ever potentially considered such a 12 situation; Owen Roberts, as well as Brian Tobey. That's what I've done. 13 14 Okay. So when you say, first, that you've been in 0 15 this role, can you explain to us very quickly what 16 you mean by "this role." 17 I've been responsible for distribution and logistics Α at Microsoft since basically 2005. 18 And just so we have it, then, in -- in this 19 0 transcript, can you tell me, then, the roles of 20 21 Mr. Roberts and Mr. Tobey. 22 Owen Roberts, at the time, was my manager. He was Α 2.3 the general manager of global supply chain. 24 Brian Tobey was his manager; corporate vice president 25 of manufacturing, supply chain, and information

2	Q	So let's let's start with the general your
3		general testimony, then.
4		Can you tell me, after having looked into this,
5		whether or not there was any consideration of moving
6		that German distribution center prior to mid-January
7		2012.
8	A	I can tell you that moving the distribution center
9		out of Düren never made sense for us prior to January
LO		2012.
L1	Q	That wasn't my question, so let me ask my question.
L2		Can you tell me whether or not there were ever
L3		was ever any consideration of moving the distribution
L 4		center out of Germany prior to mid-January 2012?
L5	A	No. I've testi I've spoken the last deposition
L6		that we'd always routinely evaluated our distribution
L7		network. To that extent, we always have.
L8		Did we ever draw a conclusion that it ever made
L9		sense to move from Düren? No.
20	Q	Now, the question wasn't just whether it made sense.
21		The question is whether there was any consideration,
22		was there any discussion, you know, prior to mid-
23		January 2012
24	A	We'd always
25	Q	of the possibility of moving the distribution

1	A	Red would be they're below whatever the target is.
2		Yellow would be they're in the range; watch out. And
3		green would be they're at or above target.
4	Q	Prior to to mid-January 2012, was there ever any
5		consideration of moving the distribution center to
6		Heinberg?
7	A	To where?
8	Q	Heinberg.
9	A	No, I don't believe so. It doesn't doesn't ring a
LO		bell.
L1	Q	Now, you told me that you were relying on your own
L2		experience, and speaking with Mr. Roberts and
L3		Mr. Tobey.
L 4		Did you speak with Ms. McKinley about whether or
L5		not there was discussion within the legal department
L6		of moving the distribution center prior to mid-
L7		January 2012?
L8	A	I did not discuss with Ms. McKinley.
L9	Q	Why not?
20	A	Because that wouldn't be her decision.
21	Q	Well, the the question is whether or not there was
22		any consideration of moving the distribution center
23		prior to mid-January of 2012.
24		Can you tell me that there was no consideration
25		in the Microsoft legal department of moving the

1		distribution center prior to mid-January 2012?
2	A	I cannot tell you if the legal department considered
3		it, but I can tell you that the legal department
4		wouldn't be moving the distribution center. I would.
5	Q	And I understand that they wouldn't be moving it, but
6		in 2012, you did have discussions with Ms. McKinley,
7		and perhaps others in the legal department, about
8		considerations about considering a move of the
9		distribution center; correct?
LO	A	I did have discussions, yes, with after January
L1		2012, with the legal department.
L2	Q	And I take it you're not an expert in German law or
L3		injunctions or
L4	A	I am not.
L5	Q	Not.
L6		So it's fair to say that to the extent that there
L7		was consideration of moving the distribution center
L8		from Germany as a result of legal issues, you relied
L9		on the legal department to to tell you about the
20		concerns?
21	A	They the legal department described the risk
22		around injunction to me, as well as Owen. So the
23		legal department would describe the risk.
24		It wouldn't be the legal department that
25		considered whether or not a move was necessary. That

Page 16 1 was Owen Roberts and myself. 2 But to be clear, I take it -- did you or Mr. Roberts, Q to your knowledge, go to the legal department at some 3 point and say, hey, we know there are lawsuits; 4 5 should we be concerned about that because of possible injunctions or anything? 6 7 Did you or Mr. Roberts initiate that type of discussion? 8 9 Α No. 10 That was -- there was some public knowledge of --11 in the press about litigation, but the legal 12 department -- I was approached by Owen first. So I 13 couldn't tell you who initiated it. 14 Did -- did Owen tell you that he had initiated 0 15 discussions with the legal department about the 16 effects of litigation in Germany and -- and how that 17 might impact where the distribution center should be 18 located? 19 No, he didn't. Α And to your knowledge, Mr. Roberts is not a legal 20 0 21 expert and -- and couldn't, by himself, figure out 22 what the risks were as a result of litigation in 23 Germany; correct? 24 That's correct. Α 25 Q So it's your understanding that it was the legal

Page 17 1 department who -- who raised this issue, the legal 2 issue, of the -- of the implications from -- from litigation on where the German -- the distribution 3 center should be located; correct? 4 5 Α The legal department described to us what the -- what 6 was happening with the litigation, and described the 7 risk of injunction, yes. And that was in connection with a -- a discussion of 8 0 whether there should be a consideration of moving the 9 distribution -- the distribution center out of 10 11 Germany; correct? 12 Well, it was myself and Owen that began articulating Α here's what we would see as some potential things 13 14 we'd investigate. One of those things considered was 15 obviously to move. 16 Okav. So --0 17 Α Yeah. 18 I mean, I'm -- I'm not trying to get you to say the Q 19 legal department made the decision. But just as a first step, I mean, did the legal department come to 20 you and say, oh, just for your information, you know, 21 22 there could be an injunction? You know. Or was it: Hey, there's something we need to talk about, the 2.3 24 injunctions; that could affect the business, you guys 25 need to make a decision?

If you can specify the proceedings you're talking about, that would help. MR. PRICE: In fact, do we still have a copy of Exhibit 1 from the 30(b)(6) of Mr. Killough? Is that correct? MR. HARRIGAN: I will confirm that that is the topic for which she is here MR. PRICE: Okay. MR. HARRIGAN: as described by the Court. Q (By Mr. Price) So first, let me ask you, what's your position at Microsoft? A Today, I am the head of legal and government affairs for the German, Austrian, and Swiss subsidiaries. Q So let's go back to the 2011/2012 time frame. What was your position then? A I was the assistant general counsel for the Xbox hardware manufacturing and supply chain business, and the logistics for all physically distributed products. Q Now, sometime in 2011/2012, did you become involved in discussions concerning moving moving Microsoft's German distribution center out of	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	of after the sort of summer period, we started working on the ITC case. Q The summer of 2012? A '11. Q '11? Well, your understanding is that when Microsoft filed proceedings on July 6th and 7th of 2011, that I'm sorry, let me rephrase that. That your understanding is that Motorola filed proceedings on July 6th or 7th, 2011, that Motorola sought injunctive relief? MR. HARRIGAN: Object to the form of the question. If you can specify the proceedings you're talking about, that would help. MR. PRICE: In fact, do we still have a copy of Exhibit 1 from the 30(b)(6) of Mr. Killough? Q (By Mr. Price) So I'm showing you a chart A Mm-hm. Q Ms. McKinley, that was prepared by Microsoft and Mr. Killough? Have you seen this chart before?

1	A I recall that it was the fall that we were working	1	the
2	heavily on it.	2	A First two pages?
3	Q Well, that's a	3	So the my clients were primarily responsible
4	A So I don't remember what the date was when I was	4	for the Xbox 360.

7	Q And you know that I am entitled to estimates, even if	7	H.264 case. And
8	you can't recall specific dates; correct? You	8	Q I'm sorry; which which how did you describe
9	understand that?	9	that?
10	A I just you just told me that.	10	A I said the case for the the key case that impacted
11	Q Okay.	11	the Xbox 360 was the H.264 case.
12	A I	12	Q Mm-hm.
13	Q So and by the way, is there anywhere in writing	13	A The one on the first page.
14	where we might find, you know, some indication as to	14	And the the second page is referring to the
15	when you started working on these cases?	15	Exchange ActiveSync case, which which which
16	A I don't know.	16	only impacted the Xbox 360 through the the Live
17	Q Do you keep notations of what you work on every day?	17	Messenger, which was shipped with the Xbox.
18	A No. I I have emails.	18	Q When you said Live Messenger was shipped with Xbox,
19	Q So	19	does that mean if you had Xboxes in the distribution
20	A Everyone works on email.	20	center in Germany, that they would have Live
21	Q So so do you think that there might be emails to	21	Messenger with it?
22	indicate when you first started working on these	22	A There's there's X there at the time, there
23	cases that were filed in July of 2011?	23	was Live Messenger functionality that was shipped on
24 25	A I assume that there could be, yeah.	25	the operating system of the Xbox.
23	Q And I assume you had discussions about about how	25	Q And so with respect to the case which is on the

5	Q (By Mr. Price) Would you have notes about that?	5	that was on the Xbox?
6	A Notes? No, probably not notes.	6	A I would put that a little bit different way, which
7 8	Q Would you have something in writing somewhere	7	is: I was involved as the product attorney for Xbox.
9	about concerning the discussions that you had with	8	As with many technologies that ship within one
10	people within Microsoft on how to respond to these cases that were filed in July of 2011?	9	product are supplied by a different part of the company, Live Messenger functionality was my

12	case between me and my clients.	12	There was some kind of availability of that
13	Q Who do you consider to be your clients?	13	functionality within the Xbox.
14	A Those are the business groups that I support.	14	Q And so as a result of the of the case that we have
15	Q And in connection with with this the cases that	15	here on the second page, which we've called the
16	were filed in July of 2011, who would who would	16	Motorola Sync patent cases, as a result of that, at
17	that have been?	17	least as of January 12, there was the potential that
18	MR. HARRIGAN: Object to the form	18	an injunction could issue, which would prohibit the 20	I really think, at this point, we need to	20	functionality on it?

21	differentiate between the cases so we know what the	21	A So as of let's see, what did you say when the case
22	answer means.	22	was filed? January 9th, 2012?
23	Q (By Mr. Price) Looking at the chart that	23	Q No. The case here is in July of 2011.
24	Mr. Killough supplied us, which cases were you	24	A Sorry. July of 2011?
1			Q Yes.

12	A The injunction, as I understood, would not have been	12	Q And that would be impacted by whether or not there
13	directed to the Xbox, but to the Live Messenger.	13	was an injunction on the Live Messenger functionality
14	Q And you couldn't distribute Xbox that had that on it?	14	which was on the Xbox; correct?
15	That was your understanding of what could happen?	15	A I would have looked to the Live Messenger team to 20	Q Okay. So the full Xbox 360 includes the stuff that's	20	that has this functionality on them?

21	on it, I take it. Right?	21	MR. HARRIGAN: You can answer that
22	A Yes. The	22	"yes" or "no," for starters.
23	Q Yeah.	23	I'm sorry, go ahead.
24	A That's the Live Messenger functionality was	24	A Yes, I was involved in discussing issues with the

2	Q And because of the Motorola Sync patent case cases	2	Q (By Mr. Price) And did you have discussions
3	that were filed in July 2011, then at least as of	3	concerning the impact on the business in Germany if
4	January/February 2012, there was the possibility that	4	there was an injunction prohibiting the German
5	an injunction would issue which would prohibit the	5	distribution center from distributing these Xboxes

2	Q Well, for example, with respect to the ITC case	2	potentially impacted product would be shipped was in
3	A Mm-hm.	3	Germany.
4	Q were you conferring with Mr. Roberts,	4	So on top of just the German distribution, it
5	Mr. Davidson, about these cases?	5	impacted worldwide distribution.
6	A Yes, I would have been conferring conferring with	6	Q So far, what you're discussing is learning from the

8	Q So you say "we" were focusing on ITC, and at some	8	functioned?
9	point you started looking at the German situation?	9	A Where it was, what where it shipped to; all those
10	A My recollection is, the German situation, we was	10	things that weren't things that I or anyone in legal
11	later in time, in terms of the focus we put on trying	11	department was aware of.
12	to handle those issues.	12	Q And so once you learned in the legal department, you
13	Q So in connection with the discussions about the ITC	13	know, the nature of this distribution facility, then
14	case, were there any discussions about moving the	14	how did the issue of whether or not it should be
15	German facility?	15	moved or transferred how did that come up, after
16	A No. That wasn't relevant to the German facility.	16	you learned from the business people this is what the
17	Q So with respect to the issue of the possibility of	17	facility does?
18	moving the German facility, who first brought that	18	A Well, we knew at that point, if an injunction is
19	up, asked the question, saying what should we do,	19	issued against the product, it cannot be in the
20	does it matter, et cetera?	20	enjoined form, cannot be distributed out of that
21	A Who first brought it up?	21	facility.
22	I I don't remember exactly who raised	22	Q So was it then once you learned about the role of
23	raised the issue, but I recall that it was in the	23	the German distribution facility, was it your role to
24	discussion as to as we were thinking through the	24	advise the business folks as to the possible legal
25	cases and trying to figure out what our what	25	repercussions of the litigation in Germany?
	43		45
1	what the options the business had to respond, at some	1	A It was my it was my role to advise them on what
2	point during that time frame, we realized in LCA that	2	the possible repercussions were, work through options
3	the physical distribution of the Xbox and other	3	with them, to allow them to make their decision.
4	physical products was handled primarily out of a	4	Q And you understood that the business folks would be

6	Q So when you say that that some initial	6	you know, legal system might work and how that might
7	discussions, that at some point LCA realized	7	impact the business; right?
8	A At some point, the business told us.	8	MR. HARRIGAN: Objection for lack
9	Q So so what's LCA LCA is	9	of foundation.
10	A I'm sorry. Law and Corporate Affairs. The legal	10	Go ahead.
11	department.	11	A My role would have been to advise them on the legal
12	Q So at some point, Law and Corporate Affairs developed		side.
13	the understanding that the Xbox was distributed out	13	Q (By Mr. Price) And the legal side would include the
14	of a facility in Germany?	14	risk from German litigation, the costs, things of
15	A Correct.	15	that nature?
16	Q And so once the LCA, the legal department, realized	16	A It would have included updating them on the case. It
17	that there was a distribution facility in Germany,	17	would have included the costs certainly wouldn't
18	you know, how did then this issue of the German	18	have been in the legal department's
19	whether it should be moved or not, what should go	19	Q The cost of litigation.
20	into it, how did that come up?	20 21	A Sorry. The cost of litigation the financial cost
21 22	A So we it came up in that we as we were talking through this with the business and trying to	21	of litigation? Q Yeah.
23	understand the impact of a potential injunction,	23	Yean. A I don't know that I was I don't I don't recall

7	MR. HARRIGAN: Object to the form	7	giving advice
8	of the question. Multiple, among other things.	8	A Okay.
9	A Can you restate that?	9	Q to the business folks
10	Q (By Mr. Price) No. You can answer what I asked,	10	A Mm-hm.
11	unless you can't understand it. If you can't	11	Q on the possibility of injunctions
12	understand it, that's if you're confused by it, I	12	A Mm-hm.
13	can re-ask it.	13	Q what more did you do other than just say, "An

16	you understand the question, you should answer it.	16	with regard to the two cases.
17	A Okay. Go ahead and repeat it, then.	17	Go ahead and answer the question.
18	Q Sure.	18	A Okay. In terms of the H.264 case, I would have
19	On the legal side	19	advised the business that an injunction had been
20	A Mm-hm.	20	requested, that it was a standard-essential patent.
21	Q I mean, you were your role was to advise	21	I would have relayed to them what's on this exhibit;
22	business as to the risks in Germany of an injunction;	22	that there's certain dates, and that we needed to do
23	correct?	23	it we needed to explore the options for how to
24	A One of my roles would have been to advise on the	24	handle it.
25	German litigation.	25	Q (By Mr. Price) So let me ask you this: In terms of
	47		49
1	Q Well, and to do that, you had to you had to know	1	what was being done, you were the person that the
2	and advise them about what the risks would be of	2	business people was looking were looking to in
3	getting an injunction.	3	Legal to advise them on the risks, legal risks, of
4	A That there was an injunction that had been requested.	4	keeping the facility in Germany; correct?
5	Absolutely.	5	A I was I was the primary product attorney that was
6	Q Is that all you told them, was that an injunction has	6	responsible for this business. So there were a
7	been requested?	7	number a number of people involved. I was the
8	A I would have told them I certainly would have told	8	primary product attorney.
9	them that an injunction had been requested, yeah.	9	Q And so, for example, if we look at what we'll
10	Q But would you have	10	what's been marked as Roberts Exhibit 1, do you see
11	A That's not all I would have told them.	11	that the on the third page of that, there's a page
12	Q Right.	12	that says "Project Structure"?
13	So what else in connection with an injunction	13	A Yep.
14	being requested, what else would you have advised the	14	Q And it shows LCA, Shelley McKinley
15	business folks on in terms of the possible the	15	A Mm-hm.
16	possibility of there being an injunction with	16	Q and then arrow down to Mr. Roberts, Ms. Daly,
17	repercussions?	17	et cetera.
18	MR. HARRIGAN: Before you answer, I	18	Do you see that?
19	object to the form of the question in that I think we	19	A Yes.
20	need to break this down between the two actions in	20	Q And is is this project structure concerning the

18	A I was the person giving legal guidance on on	18	Q And so you would you have discussed, then, hey, if
19	options that they were exploring.	19	you have a facility in Holland, then this is kind of
20	Q Now, you told me that that earlier on, that in	20	the legal framework there; if a patent infringement

I don't know how it was raised in the 1 Q So in connection with discussing with the business 2 2 folks the legal department's -- the pros and cons of 3 3 various options, obviously you wanted to give the Q And didn't you know that in the American case, that, 4 as you said, Microsoft was suing Motorola for business folks the best legal advice you could in 5 5 connection with those options. Correct? breaching that -- that contract as a result of the 6 standards setting organization; correct? 6 A Of course I wanted to give the best legal advice I 7 7 A I recall that's what I knew about the case. So I -could. 8 I can't testify that I know exactly what was alleged 8 Q So was one of the things you told them was that no 9 9 in that case. I never read the pleadings. injunction would issue in the German case unless 10 10 there was a finding of infringement? Q But as a lawyer, you know that when you're suing for 11 breach of contract, you're usually looking for 11 MR. HARRIGAN: Objection; unless we 12 12 damages? talk about which case we're referring to here. 13 A Or specific performance. 13 Q (By Mr. Price) We're talking about -- let's say the 14 14 Q And you had a general understanding that -- that H.264 case. 15 Microsoft was, in the United States, seeking damages 15 A Okay. In the H.264 case, if there was a finding -- a 16 on the allegation that Motorola was breaching its 16 finding of infringement, my understanding is that an 17 17 contract in association with the standardinjunction would be issued. 18 18 essential -- Standard Setting Organizations? Q And that's one of the things you would have told the 19 19 business folks, that: you're not going to get an A I -- I just wasn't involved in that case enough to --20 20 to tell you exactly what the -- what the claims were injunction in Germany unless there's a finding that 21 that were made, other than generally I knew that the 21 in fact Microsoft has infringed the patents? 22 22 case was a breach of contract case. A I -- I can't think of another reason that I would 23 23 have told them that there was an injunction pending, Q Certainly you know that Microsoft is seeking damages 24 that would include the cost of moving from Germany, 24 beyond a -- a finding by the Court -- a Court 25 25 because that was caused by allegedly Motorola seeking granting an injunction. 65 1 an injunction that had not offered the FRAND rate? Q My question is different. 2 MR. HARRIGAN: Object to the form 2 I mean, in telling them about the pros and cons 3 3 of various options -of the question, in that I believe the time frame has 4 been switched from a previous question. 4 A Mm-hm. 5 5 But go ahead and answer. Q -- one of the things you'd be talking about would be A The -- I think originally you're referring to the 6 the risks and benefits; correct? 7 7 breach of contract case. And I don't know what A Risks and benefits --8 8 Q Of an option. Correct? damages were being claimed there. 9 Q (By Mr. Price) Sitting -- sitting here today, you 9 A We would be discussing the -- the risks and benefits 10 understand you're testifying on the breach of 10 of -- of options. 11 contract case? 11 Q And, of course, an option might be stay in Germany; 12 A I understand it's -- it's a case, and that the 12 correct? 13 damages for the movement of the warehouse are part of 13 A Certainly. 14 14 Q Okay. And so one of the things, then, you obviously 15 I just don't know -- I don't know which -- if 15 talked to the business folks about was that -- that, 16 it's the same case that we would have had at the 16 in terms of risk, that you're not going to get an 17 time. I don't know. There are a lot of cases. 17 injunction in Germany unless there's a finding by a 18 18 Q In discussions you had like in the -- in the January Court that Microsoft has infringed the patent? 19 19 MR. 1	Q (By Mr. Price) And so that's what I'm saying.	1	Q So my statement is correct?
2	You told the business folks that, that that	2	A Can you restate what your statement is, and then I
3	you don't get an injunction unless you get a finding	3	can tell you?
4	of infringement?	4	Q Yes. Yeah. That one of the things you would have
5	A I would have I would have told them if there's	5	told them in evaluating risks and benefits is that if
6	a the court case is such that we lose and are	6	you move the facility out of the facility out of
7	found to infringe, then there would be an injunction	7	Germany, that a German court can still stop you from
8	issued on that.	8	distributing products within Germany; right?
9	Q Now, did you also tell the business folks that	9	A That's my assumption.
10	that a move from Germany would insulate you from	10	Q So what the move might affect is the ability of a
11	from all parties now and the future, you know,	11	German court to stop you from distributing products
12	seeking an injunction against Microsoft products in	12	outside of Germany; right?
13	Germany?	13	A Moving so moving the facility is one one
14	A The I would not have said that.	14	potential option to handle distribution of products
15	Q Well, it's true, is it not, that that if you moved	15	outside of the German territory.
16	the distribution facility out of Germany	16	Q And what you advised them was that if you move the
17	A Mm-hm.	17	facility outside of Germany, then the German court
18	Q to another country, that that would insulate that	18	would not be able to issue an injunction preventing
19	distribution facility from injunction by German	19	Microsoft from distributing products from that
20	courts, which you say are granted routinely, against	20	distribution facility to the rest of Europe; correct?
21	distribution in Germany?	21	A Hm. I I don't know that I said it ever that way,
22	A No. No, I wouldn't say that we wouldn't the	22	but certainly, I think as I've already testified, the
23	injunction that would be granted by a German court	23	German injunction would apply to the distribution of
24	would apply in Germany irrespective of where the	24	products within Germany, as well as from a location
25	warehouse is.	25	in Germany.
	67		69
1	The distribution of products outside of Germany	1	Q So you told them there's a benefit to moving out of
2	is is what would not at least I I don't know	2	Germany, with respect to a German injunction; right?

7	Germany or in another jurisdiction.	7	A I I I told them it's one of the possible ways,
8	Q So you make a good distinction here. So let me	8	yeah. One of the possible ways to react to an
9	let me follow up on that.	9	injunction.
10	So one thing you would tell them would have	10	Q And I'm trying to figure out why.
11	told them, in terms of the risks and benefits, is	11	So so you told them that one of the possible
12	that if you move a facility outside of Germany, you	12	ways to react to an injunction is, if you move your
13	can still have a German a German court issue an	13	distribution facility outside of Germany
14	injunction about distribution within Germany; right?	14	A Mm-hm.
15	That doesn't insulate you from that; correct?	15	Q the German court can't stop you from distributing
16	A My understanding is, an injunction issued in Germany	16	to areas other than Germany?
17	applies in the borders of Germany.	17	A In this case, my understanding was, the injunction
18	Q So you would have told the business folks, when	18	would apply only to the territory of Germany and
19	giving them, you know, your advice on this, that a	19	would not apply outside of the territory of Germany.
20	move would not insulate you from that. That if	20	Q And that would be true with respect to any case filed
21	there's an injunction in Germany, you still can't	21	against Microsoft in Germany; correct? That if your
22	distribute the products in Germany. Right? Moving	22	distribution if your distribution center is not in
23	is not going to change that.	23	Germany, then the German courts can't issue an
24	A Change being able to distribute a product in Germany	24	injunction preventing you from distributing to the
25	that's enjoined? No.	25	rest of the world?

2	been that we were looking at was a date for	2	issuance of injunction?
3	possible H.264 injunction, because that's what was	3	A Yes.
4	driving this.	4	Q So is the date that you're thinking of, in terms of
5	Q But my understanding is, you're saying in the face of	5	when you were saying an injunction might issue, was
6	an injunction, you were considering various options?	6	that sometime in April or May?
7	A Mm-hm.	7	A That an injunction might issue?
8	Q Correct? "Yes" or "no"?	8	Q Yes.
9	A Yes. Sorry. Yes, that's correct.	9	A Yes. This would have been the hearing the
10	Q And that there came a time when you had to decide on	10	the well, looks like there was yeah, I recall
11	an option; correct?	11	this move.
12	A That's correct.	12	There was an April 17th original announcement
13	Q And do you have any idea of when the time was that	13	that moved out to May 2nd, when we would understand
14	you had decided on the option?	14	what the what the result was of the infringement
	A I I don't know the exact what the exact date	15	claim.
16	would have been.	16	Q So
17	My recollection is that the business told me that	17	A And an injunction would be issued with that.
18	they had to whoops, we lost him.	18	Q So under the February 7, 2012 entry here, at the end,
19	Q Sorry.	19	it says April 17, 2012, was set as the date of
20	A That they in order they were looking for plans	20	announcement of the decision.
21	that got them to the ability to continue after the	21	Do you see that?
22 23	the date that the injunction could issue. And the	22	A Yes.
24	different options brought with them different time schedules.	23 24	Q And so was that sort of the date that we're working back from?
25	And the I don't know the I don't know the	25	A The it's I can't remember if it was the exact

3	Q From?	3	the injunction and the ability to enforce the
4 5	A From the from the date that an injunction could	4 5	injunction and all of that. So April 17th would have been one of the key
6	issue. Q So if you look at	6	days.
7	A Maybe a little more than that, but	7	Q Do you recall that, at some point within Microsoft,
8	Q So	8	the date for moving changed from some date in April
9	A it was pretty it was it was going to be	9	to June?
10	tight.	10	A June? I know the date moved around quite a bit for a
11	Q So let me ask you to look at what was marked as	11	number of reasons.
12	Exhibit 1 to Mr. Killough's 30(b)(6)	12	Q And why did the date move around?
13	A Yep.	13	A Court schedule would move around. The speed in which
14	Q deposition. And see on the first page, under Case	14	the business team could execute on a move would move
15	Status, it has April 11 well, let's see 2012,	15	around. The other the other options, the bonded
16	you see there's a temporary restraining order issued	16	warehouse, those dates.
17	in Microsoft versus Motorola?	17	So it was a process of the team evaluating their

1	any of that?	1	Q So obviously on on on May 14th, you you
2	A Of the changes?	2	didn't know whether there would be an appeal, or how
3	Q And why the changes were made.	3	long it would take.
4	A I I know that the business told me about changes	4	So what did you advise the business folks as
5	and things they were finding out. I don't recall	5	to as to the effect of the injunction prohibiting
6	what the details were of each of the things.	6	Motorola from enforcing an injunction against
7	Q Did these dates ever move around based upon the	7	Microsoft? What did you say to them about the

Q (By Mr. Price) Is this assessment of your German counsel in writing somewhere? A German counsel would not have been involved in advising my clients. I would have looked at whatever German counsel told us about the Orange Book and interpreted that and talked to my clients about that. Q So two steps. The German counsel's advice to you, would that be in writing? A I assume that there's written mails or memos on Orange Book defense. Q And your interpretation of that, relaying that to the business folks, would that likely be in writing? A On the Orange Book? I don't recall ever writing anything about that in detail.         Well, do you understand the question?
        I understand the question vaquely.
   Α
        What part of the question don't you understand?
        Is there a specific time frame you're referencing
        considering a change?
        Well, I -- I am referencing the entire time period in which the EMEA distribution facilities were located in Arvato's distribution facilities.
           So at any time in that time period, did Microsoft consider changing facilities?
10
       In my tenure, I don't recall considering in earnest
11
12 ever changing facilities.
13
       And when you say your tenure, is that your full eight years of employment at Microsoft, or sort of more 14 recent as you moved up the chain?
15
       At least the last three or four years.
16
17
       And in the time period in which Microsoft was working with the -- let me start over.
18
           In the time period in which Microsoft's EMEA 19 distribution facilities were located in Düren, 20
       Germany, did Microsoft consider searching for a 2.1
       vendor other than Arvato?
22
23
   Α
       No.
24
       No?
            And is that, again, within the last three or four

1	they believed our last drop dead date would be the 1st of
2	June and therefore I made a decision to tell the teams to
3	shoot for the first of June.
4	As a backup plan, if April the 17th had happened
5	we had a separate backup plan which basically meant we
6	were going to shut down the facility in Germany and make
7	best effort out of Venray at that date.
8	Q And when you say you went back to the legal team
9	to let them know that the April 17th date was not
10	achievable, who did you go back to?
11	A To Shelley McKinley.
12	Q Going back to the actual decisions that
13	Microsoft had to make, the decision between choosing
14	Arvato or CEVA, who had sort of the final say in making
15	that decision; was that you or Mr. Tobey or somebody
16	else?
17	A That decision ultimately rested with me.
18	Q Okay. And then the decision to relocate the
19	facility out of Germany, do you know who ultimately had
20	signoff authority on that decision?
21	A That was I would rephrase the point to say it
22	wasn't a decision to move it, we were told, based on the
23	litigation, we had to move the facility.
24	Q Okay. So I guess just to clarify, I understand
25	your team, your team did not make the decision

		41
1	A	Correct.
2	Q	to relocate out of Germany?
3	A	No. We were not planning to move warehouses in
4	Europe.
5	Q	Okay. That was a decision that your team was
6	informed	by legal counsel?
7	A	Correct.
8	Q	Okay, and do you know who on the legal team
9	or do you	u know who made the decision to move, which was
10	then con	veyed to you by legal counsel?
11	A	Shelley McKinley was my contact.
12	Q	Okay. But do you know whether she is the one
13	that made	e the decision to move?
14	A	I don't know that.
15	Q	Okay. All right. So then going back to the
16	go-live o	date, it was initially April 17th of 2012, it was
17	moved to	June 1st, 2012; correct?
18	А	Correct.
19	Q	In sort of in the time period between January
20	and June	1st of 2012, were you in communication with the
21	legal tea	am to determine what was going on in the
22	litigatio	on and whether the need to move diminished or
23	went awa	y?
24	А	No, I wasn't.
25	Q	Okay. Do you know if anybody on your team was?

	134
1	January of 2012 or early March when the decision was made
2	to go with CEVA?
3	A Can you clarify the question? I thought I had
4	already testified that the first I heard about this was
5	in mid to late January.
6	Q Right. I'm trying to get an idea from your
7	perspective when you are thinking about when the move
8	process started, do you go back to the January date or
9	once you selected a vendor and were, you know, moving
10	forward with that vendor?
11	A No. As far as my recollection is concerned, and
12	we had not made a decision to move the facility in that
13	January date. We had the potential risk of a move and
14	that's why we were being prudent and starting the work of
15	due diligence. And it was at some later stage, some date
16	between that date and March the 8th when we finally
17	awarded the business that we had decided that we were
18	going that way. And I think that was closer to the March
19	time frame than the January time frame.
20	Q Okay. And I just want to make sure I am
21	understanding your testimony correctly.
22	I believe you testified earlier today that you
23	and your team decided between going with Arvato versus
24	CEVA, whereas the legal team was was the group that
25	that made the decision whether or not to move; is that

	135
1	correct?
2	A No, that is not correct.
3	Q Okay.
4	A No. The legal team is there to give us advice.
5	We own the business and we make the business decision
6	based on the risks that are presented to us. And so the
7	legal team had presented a case that said we had a very
8	strong risk of our business being materially impacted if
9	we lost the litigation in Germany, and then it was a
10	decision by the business to say how to we mitigate for
11	that risk and at what stage do we mitigate for that risk.
12	It's not a legal decision.
13	Q So when I asked you who made the decision to
L4	relocate the distribution facility out of Germany, who
15	was that?
16	A That was my decision with Brian Tobey as my L7	support as far as for that. But when I presented it to 18	Brian, where we were, the business risks associated with
L9	it, Brian agreed with my proposal.
20	Q Okay. Can you then explain to me, I guess, what
21	information was provided to you by legal to advise you of
22	the risk?
23	A As I stated earlier, Shelley had told us that
24	there was this litigation pending and it didn't appear
25	that and as a result of that we would be materially

             That I was personally present for the purpose of acting as Certified Court Reporter in the matter entitled 8
   herein; that the witness was by me duly sworn; that before the proceedings completion, the reading and 10 11 signing of the deposition has not been requested by the 12 deponent or party;
13
             That the foregoing transcript is a true and 14 correct transcript of the stenographic notes of testimony 15 taken by me in the above-captioned matter to the best of my knowledge, skill and ability.
16
17
             I further certify that I am not an attorney or 18 counsel for any of the parties, nor a relative or 19 employee of any attorney or counsel connected with the 20 action, nor financially interested in the action.
